

Texas Personal Auto Insurance

“Over 20 years of experience...Our objective is to save you money...The only way we can do this is if you have a good idea of the premiums you’ll be paying for...”

Summary

Auto insurance covers losses that result from automobile ownership. Coverages fall into three categories: the auto itself, comprehensive and collision, the people who own and operate the auto, personal injury protection and under/uninsured motorist and the owner’s financial capital exposed after an accident, auto liability. Coverage is for a specific time period, usually six months. Auto insurance is obviously purchased to protect valuable resources but also to comply with public liability laws in a particular jurisdiction.

Premium Estimates

Premiums are based on the overall risk profile of the policyholder. For the coverages indicated above, adults with a “good” overall risk profile can expect to pay on average $75 per month, with a fair risk profile, $115, and a poor risk profile $150 to $225.
